Trust
the Creator of Beauty

It is every person's desire to have a radiant image. And the appearance of the skin can determine our entire well-being, intrinsic as well as extrinsic. A maintenance program that is ahead of its time is vital, but at the same time it should also make visible changes in a natural and lasting way. Our highly effective product range emerges under this principle. We put our trust in nature because she invented beauty.

Dr. Spiller Biomimetic SkinCare – Holistic Well-Being as a Philosophy

Every personality has its distinct characteristics. But there is one trait that almost everyone shares – the desire for holistic well-being.

In this regard, Dr. Spiller has played a key role for over 50 years, because our know-how extends much further than a classic skin care assortment. Due to our vast experience, our product range with revolutionary properties has grown.

As visionaries in the name of beauty, tradition has shown that we are always ahead of the times. It is our strong conviction and belief to put trust into the fascinating principles of nature – refining and intensifying them through the use of modern, high-tech procedures. The result is innovative enrichment for body and soul:

From Art we have learned, to just let Inspiration reflect

To set new standards, you don't have to re-create the world, but carefully watch. Just the way that Dr. Spiller has always kept his eye on nature. For us it is simply a matter of respect, because we have several things in common: constant change in life and the quest for perfection. Biology shows us what the skin needs and how it functions. That is the reason why the skin is our most valuable source of inspiration.

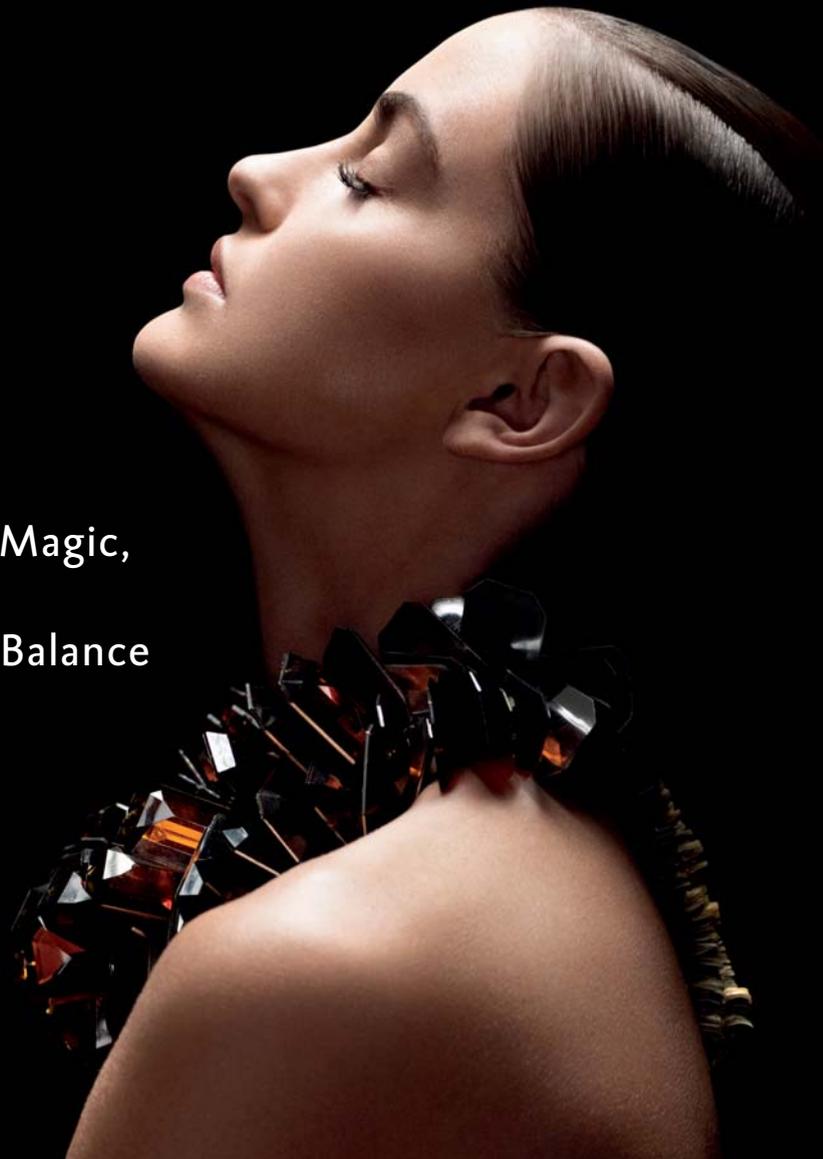

It is relevant to be able to use this information wisely, to actively strengthen the skin. Dr. Spiller recognized long ago that increasing environmental impacts require complex skin care formulas.

This is how our claim was created, to provide effective and more targeted support with innovative formulations designed from a masterful example: unique in its function, authentic in effectiveness and convincing results. From biology, captivated and inspired:

Through Magic,
Ensure a
Youthful Balance

Dr. Spiller's revolutionary HYTEC Emulsion System

Equilibrium is an internal state, that also reflects externally. This is particularly true in respect to the moisture content of the skin. After all, water is the source of life, the key substance responsible for stable biological processes – therefore the origin of a youthful appearance.

It is essential that there is an intact Hydrolipid Film. This is the skin's barrier layer, which optimally regulates the natural ecosystem. This is where the loss of moisture is being constantly regulated, to prevent dehydration of the skin. The precise principle of nature, that perfectly functions and is therefore the key to a revolution is: the unique HYTEC Emulsion System.

Its role is to recreate and recover the Hydrolipid Film structure. As soon as it falls out of balance, the HYTEC Emulsion System restores and balances the skin natural functions again. It does this by precisely replicating nature's blueprint. This patented innovation minimizes the loss of water and stabilizes moisture at a constant level. At the same time, active ingredients are delivered more effectively into the targeted areas. Biomimetic is an effective and intelligent way to prevent and counteract the aging process.

healthy can also be noticeably beautiful.”*

Principles to newly defined Effectiveness

A Solution, Overcoming Boundaries – Biomimetic

Whatever creates an evolution gravitates towards perfection. The functions of biological processes are being constantly adjusted to external conditions – even the skin. However, sometimes the natural performance is restricted. To restore this inefficiency, Dr. Spiller holds the highest standards of development in skin care. And because of all the possibilities that Biomimetic entails, the product effectiveness undergoes a real quantum jump.

The visionary direction is based on an intelligent principal: a clever way in which the tools of biology (and their scientific achievements) connect with man. This way, demanding skin care is allowed to overcome its own limitations and new energy is released. Forces that the skin's own protection system cannot unfold are found in this range, which promotes health effects that gives the skin prolonged youthfulness.

How Dr. Spiller Biomimetic SkinCare broadens the horizons:

- Performs by emulating nature's own blueprint.
- Links biological and technical potentials together.
- Counterbalances energy when there is insufficient power.
- Neutralizes, in a targeted manner, damaging environmental influences.
- Precisely regulates moisturization.
- Activates functions of the skin with protective and regenerating substances.
- Provides a healthy maintenance system.
- Preserves youthful smoothness and suppleness.
